Public Health Service	What is the role of Public Health? Public health plays a very important role in protecting, promoting, and maintaining the health of entire communities. These communities may be as small as your neighborhood, or as large as the whole country. Many of public health's duties are health issues we face in everyday life-like protecting the drinking water, or ensuring the safety of food at local restaurants. YOUTH REDEFINING AGRICULTURE	Agribusiness is one of the most viable forms of self employment in my country, Kenya. However, the youth have been raised with the mentality of studying so as to secure white collar jobs. This has made a very large population of youth associating Agriculture with poverty. I am a successful example of what an educated youth can achieve through Agripreneurship. I have a company, Groliva Farm Limited that does Hydroponics Tomato Production quite profitably under the sponsorship of KCB Foundation. I'd like to share my experience with other young people on how they can transform their lives through Agribusiness. Empowering widows	Campaign against Sexual and gender-based violence ; women working in gold mines are sexually exploited by the men who dig for the stones. Most of the sites that are dug up are also owned by men. The women, therefore, have no bargaining power and as a result they end up engaging in sexual relationships with the men just to get a job that will earn them some money in return. Community Peace Dialogue	Volunteering in community local dispute and Peace dialogue. This is seeing how community dwellers can take ownership and sustain our fifteen years of unbroken peace. It can be recalled that most of us( the locals) are unable to settled issues that don't necessarily need to get police or government and including courts. There issues that even we, the community people can simply resolve without reaching to community leaders. For instance, community chairman, town chief and etc. So, after creating such awareness, through community meetings and dialogues citizens will settle local disputes. Gender Base Violence	Gender-based violence is a phenomenon deeply rooted in gender inequality, and continues to be one of the most notable human rights violations within all societies. Gender-based violence is violence directed against a person because of their gender. Both women and men experience gender-based violence but the majority of victims are women and girls. Gender-based violence and violence against women are terms that are often used interchangeably as it has been widely acknowledged that most gender-based violence is inflicted on women and girls, by men. Eliminating Child Labor	After the civil war in Liberia, it has been difficult for her to put an end to child labor practices. According to the ILO 2006 report Liberia is one of the country that has worst form of child practices. The knowledge about child labor is relatively weak. The gross roots of commitment to reduce child labor are poor in Liberia. Child Labor instances are rampant across the country and they primarily exist in the mining, agricultural, homes and informal sectors in Liberia. For such reasons, child labor is view in Liberia as something only taking place outside the child home. So, everything at that school are decript, there is no gateways about most of the different classrooms, and some bad seats for pupils. There is a lack of teachers, and pupils are just learning in a very bad condition. July 18 #HeroWeek	In every day we wake up to heroism. The greater challenge is in choosing how and to whom we act out our heroism towards. One can choose be a hero to themselves by giving themselves an excellent breakfast to start their morning, or they could take it an extra mile by preparing a lunch pack to give to a homeless person on their way to work/school/anywhere. We could be heroes to ourselves by keeping warm, or take it an extra mile by giving away a jacket to the homeless. One week of heroism still makes a difference! #HeroWeek	Other	South Africa	Johannesburg	On the streets of your city	On the streets of your city	07/18	7:00 AM	Ongoing event	Phenyo Mabokela	0764700955, lead@phenyomabokela.com
